Decision Tree

Did the employee experience an injury or illness?

No  Yes
Not a recordable injury/illness. Do not record the injury or illness. No Preliminary Accident Report (PAN) needed.
Is the injury or illness work-related?

No  Yes
Work-Related:

A case is presumed work-related if, and only if, an event or exposure in the work environment is a discernable cause of the injury or illness or a significant aggravation to a pre-existing condition. Significant aggravation of a pre-existing condition by a workplace event or exposure makes the case work-related. Work-relatedness is presumed for injuries and illnesses resulting from events or exposures occurring in the work environment. Injuries and illnesses that occur while an employee is in travel status are work-related if, at the time of the injury or illness, the employee was engaged in work activities “in the interest of the employer.”

Exceptions to Work-Relatedness:

1. Member of the general public.
2. Symptoms arising on premises totally due to outside factors.
3. Voluntary participation in wellness program.
4. Eating, drinking and preparing one’s own food.
5. Personal tasks outside working hours.
6. Personal grooming, self-medication, self infliction.
7. Motor vehicle accident in parking lot/access road during commute.
8. Cold or flu.
9. Mental illness unless employee voluntarily presents a medical opinion stating that the employee has a mental illness that is work-related.
10. The illness/injury occurs while an employee is on TDY status (established if employee has checked into a temporary residence or if they have taken a detour during TDY for personal reasons) and is not engaged in work activities at the time of the event.
Is the injury or illness a new case?

No  Yes
New Case:

Work-related injuries and illnesses are considered to be new cases when the employee:

• has never reported similar signs or symptoms before

• has recovered completely from a previous injury or illness and workplace events or exposures have caused the signs or symptoms to reappear

OK
Update the previously recorded injury or illness entry on OSHA 300 Log if necessary. No Preliminary Accident Report (PAN) needed.
Does the injury or illness meet the general recording criteria or the application to specific cases?
